

Summer Student Employees for Texas A&M AgriLife Extension and Research Agronomy Program

Description: A summer 2017 position with Texas A&M AgriLife Extension and Research Agronomy program at Bushland.

Duties: assist Extension and Research technicians in the following:

- herbicide applications in research plots
- plot irrigation and maintenance
- hand and machine harvesting
- soil water measurements
- plant sampling and processing.
- variety trial monitoring including wheat, cotton, forage sorghums, corn silages

Requirements: Applicant must be able to lift 50 lbs.

Successful completion of a background check

Must be willing to preform facility maintenance including hoeing and mowing.

Assets: Ability to operate standard transmission vehicles and tractors

Ability to operate basic shop and garden tools

Pay rate: dependent upon classification and experience.

Application process: Follow link to Agronomy page and click on application

<http://amarillo.tamu.edu/amarillo-center-programs/agronomy/>

Texas A&M AgriLife Research and Extension is an Equal Opportunity Employer.